Jas. A. Reardon, President of the Reardon Glue Co., would not take a thousand dollars for the good EUPEPSIA TABLETS have done

St. Louis, Mo., July 3, 1900. Eupepsia Company:

Gentlemen-Three weeks ago I commenced taking EUPEPSIA TABLETS, and the first dose gave me immediate relief. From that time on I had no symptoms of dyspepsia, and after taking two weeks' treatment I considered myself cured. The truth is I would not take a thousand dollars for the good your medicine has done me.

No one but the suffering ones can realize what torture there is in imperfect digestion. I now can eat just what I desire. Yours very truly, JAS. A. REARDON.

SUPPOSED CORPSE CAME TO LIFE.

Man Had Been Beaten Senseless in Detectives Traced the Desperado Fight and Was Taken to Police Station.

Astonished Officers by Asking Them What Was the Matter, but Missed a Trip to the Morgue.

To the consternation of the persons in the Fourth District Police Station yesterday morning, the supposed corpse of a negro came to life again through the action of Sergeant Thomas Boyd, who accidentally spilled a few drops of water on its face. When the presumed corpse arose and inquired what was the matter the men in the station were thunderstruck.

The negro, George Nevill, had been re-ported murdered, as the result of a terrible beating he received about the head, at the hands of Fred Camper of No. 1333 North weeks' treatment, and will be sent | Sixth street in a fight at that place. The supposed corpse was taken to the City Hospostage if your druggist fails to pital after its startling resuscitation and fracture of the skull.

Nevill began a fight with Camper in front of No. 1333 North Sixth street, where they both live, and Camper was compelled to use his club. When Sergeant Boyd arrived nothing "just as good." Eupepsia he found one negro apparently dead and another frightened almost out of his wits, because he thought he had committed mur-station, where he confessed, and shortly afterward Sergeant Boyd brought in the supposed dead man. The body was laid on a table in the station. There was absolutely no indication of life.

Sergeant McFarland, who is in charge of the station, had made arrangements to forward the body to the morgue and was gazing at the supposed corpse, while Sergeant Boyd was washing his hands near by. Boyd chanced to turn around sergeant Boyd was washing his hands near by. Boyd chanced to turn around and as he did so accidentally dashed some water on the face of the corpse. He end McFarland were astonished to see the corpse open its eyes wide, wink and blink for a short space, and then gaze wonder-ingly at them. Then the animated corpse raised itself on its elbows and said, slow-"What in the -- is the matter?" Boyd nor McFarland was able to answer any questions for a short time and every officer who came into the station inspected the lively corpse.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Vinita, L. T., July 15.-The following is an important portion of Judge Gill's charge to the United States Grand Jury at Wewoka, which is very important to the people of the Indian Territory and along the borders of the Territory. The charge is far-reach-of the Territory. The charge is far-reaching in its effect and destroys the timber industry. The Judge said:

"Every person who unlawfully cuts, or aids, or is employed in unlawfully cutting or wantonly destroys or procures to be wantonly destroyed any timber standing upon the lands of the United States, which, in pursuance of law may have been reserved for any purpose, or timber standing upon any Indian reservation or of lands occupied or belonging to any tribe of indians under the authority of the United States, violates the law and should be given those guarding the entrances, and a general rush should be made.

Killian and Murphy, with drawn revolvers, rushed in simultaneously from the north and south entrances. It had been previously agreed that, in the event any one was found, a signal should be given those guarding the entrances, and a general rush should be made.

Killian had been in the barn less than one minute when the flash from his buliseye lattern revealed the form of a man stretched at full length on the hay. He signaled Murphy, and the two held a constitution in the cut and dispose of said timber on the outside rushed in. Detective Discovered by a Census Man Almost Buried in the Woods.

Vinita, I. T., July 15.-A census enumerator on Little River, Cedar County, Choctaw Nation, I. T., found a Choctaw Indian woman who is believed to be nearly 100 years old. Choctaw women, as a rule, do not live to a great age. This woman has abandoned her name of Honitima for that of Nancy Jacob. She was living in an old log cabin in a little field or clearing in old log cabin in a little field of clearing in the woods, half grown up with underbrush. Only a little trail half distinguishable in some places leads to her house. She said she was a grown woman when she came with her tribe in 1839 from Mississippi. She was an old woman when the Civil War broke out and made hanaha, an Iudian meal made of corn, beans and other ingredients, for the boys who fought the "Faluma," as the Indians called the Yankees.

OFFICERS ON TRAIL OF ROBBER NELSON.

to Florissant, Where He Boarded the Wabash Train.

DROP OF WATER REVIVED HIM. BULLET HOLE IN HIS HAT.

Headgear Is Found in Possession of a Negro-Fugitive a Brother of Charles Wheeler Barnes.

Assistant Chief of Police Pickel and As sistant Chief of Detectives Smith, accompanied by half a dozen detectives, armed with riot guns and revolvers, made a midnight excursion into St. Louis County and searched several houses and barns in the vicinity of Bridgeton and Florissant early Sunday morning in quest of "Jack Nelson," the Wickliffe, Ky., train robber, The effort to locate him was futile, but con siderable information was obtained which Chief Desmond thinks will result in the capture of the desperado.

It was also learned that "Jack Nelson" is Channing Barnes, and that he is a brother of Charles Wheeler Barnes, his associate in the train robbery, who is now under arrest. The Barnes brothers formerly lived in Austin, Tex., where their father conducts a profitable grocery. Chief Desmond last night obtained a written confession from Charles W. Barnes, implicating his brother and the Cairo prisoner, Conley, and also learned where the valuable papers stolen from the express company's safe vere hidden.

In the party which scoured the county were Detectives Eagan and McCumpsey of Chicago, Deputy Sheriff Osborne of St. Louis County, and Detectives Killian, Murphy, Woodling, Teschemacher and Roberts, Representatives of all the daily newspapers accompanied the officers. The Search Begins.

The start was made from the Four Courts at 10 o'clock Saturday night, and Fiorissant was reached just before daybreak. Every officer in the party was determined to cap-ture the desperate train robber, dead or

The Natural Bridge road was followed to the Florissant Valley Clubhouse, which is just beyond the city limits. There a stop was made, and the negro guide explained was made, and the negro guide explained. that it was at this point where Barnes, that it was at this point where Barnes, alias Netson, jumped from the bed of the wagon, exchanged hats with the negro and bade him good-by. The man then walked west toward Bridgeton. He was seen in that neighborhood Friday afternoon, and passed Friday night in a barn near Forguson. From there he was tracked to the Wa-ash tracks, where it was learned he boarded a westbound freight train.

Other information was obtained which the police will not divulge, but they do not hesitate to say that the capture of Barnes is only a question of hours. Most of the officers took up the trail at Florissant, and have instructions to follow it.

The wagonette containing the police and newspaper men was met at Bridgeton by a negro boy named Bryance Woolfork, who

A Tramp in a Barn.

Littering an exclamation of surprise which resembled a shrick, he jumped to his feet and impored them not to shoot. He was seized and taken outside into the light, and it was learned that he was only a tramp who had asked and obtained permission to sleep in the barn from Farmer Brockhous. After this explanation had been given he was allowed to return to his bed of hay. The other wagonette loaded with officers, which had been driven over a different road to Florissant, learned that Barnes had loarded a freight train late Saturday night and was not in the neighborhood. Officers were detailed on his track, and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning those who did not continue the search drove back to St. Louis.

The cheap straw hat which Barnes wore when he escaped from his Finney avenue boarding-house Friday morning was obtained from the negre to whom he had given it. There was a builet hole through the crown. Evidently he had carried it in his hand while running through the alley, as the builet entered from the inside.

Chief Desmond received information last night from San Francisco that Harnes had been sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment in California for complicity in a train robbery near San Quentin. He escaped while out on bond pending the consideration for a new trial.

For more than an hour last night a representative of The Republic talked with A Tramp in a Barn.

For more than an hour last night a representative of The Republic talked with Charles W. Barnes in the holdover at the Four Courts. He is gradually weakening.

Four Courts which he has been Charles W. Barnes in the holdover at the Four Courts. He is gradually weakening, and the mental strain which he has been subjected to in the last few days has hed a telling effect on his nervous system. He talked freely of the re bery and of the plans, laid in St. Louis. He denied that Barnes, allas Nelson, was his brother, but said they were cousins, and avowed that Nelson, as he called him, induced him to go into the robbery and promised him a large share of the procees in liquidation of a debt of several hundred follars. Barnes declared that they got less than that two packages of money, one containing $700 and the other $400, were lost. He received but $50 as his share, Nelson the balance.

received but $50 as his share, Neison the balance.

He denied all knowledge of Neison's Callfornia penitentiary sentence. Barnes lost his nerve several times during the interview and wept bitterly when he spoke of his wife, who departed last night for her Callfornia home. He declared that he would be unable to stand the terrible strain of confinement and would die in jail before his case was called in court.

Chief Pickel and several detectives returned from Flortssant and found a measage from the Chicago detectives, stating they were only three hours behind Nelson and that his capture was but a question of a few hours.

are under arrest in St. Louis, charged with robbing the Illinois Central train at Mayfield, Ky., were born and raised in Austin. Their father is a promisent grocer of this city, and stands high in business and social circles.

Channing left here about twelve years ago, but has been here frequently since then. The last his former friends and acquaintances here heard of him was that he was in California. It was reported here that he was implicated in bank robbery in that State and had been convicted and sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary.

Charles is the younger and left here a few years ago. His whereabouts since then are not known to his parents and acquaintances here. The father of the alleged robbers was called upon this evening and asked if he had any statement to make concerning the arrest of his sons. He said:

"We know nothing of Channing since he was in Mexico. We have spared no expense or care in rearing our children as far as education, religious, moral and business example would go. All that fond parents could lavish on their children to make them good, worthy clitzens we have done."

Mr. Barnes, the father, was for many years a resident of Cincinnati, and had charge of the delivery department of the Western Union in that city.

ICE WAGON TEAM IN OBSTACLE RACE.

Ran Away on Levee, Boarded Barges and Jumped Over Capstans and Cables.

DRIVER DANGEROUSLY HURT.

Thrown From the Vehicle and His Skull Was Fractured-Horses Caught While Trying to Scale Gangplank.

Walter Unruhe, 65 years old, a teamster for the Eisemayer Coal Company of No. 317 South Fourth street, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday morning in a runsway on the Levee. Doctor Nietert, Superintendent of the City Hospital, said last night after Unruhe's badly fractured skull had been trephined, that his condition was very seri-

Unruhe was sent by his employers to get a wagon load of ice from the Huse & Loomis Company's barge at the foot of Spruce street. His vehicle was a heavy ice wagon, and the team was a strong, well-broken pair of animals. Shortly after Unruhe started down the hill to the Levee his team became unmanageable and started to run. Just after crossing the railroad tracks the wagon struck a pile of lumber and Unruhe was thrown from the seat. His head struck a cobble stone, and he was rendered unconscious.

The team continued directly toward the outh approach of barge No.2 of the Wiggins Ferry Company, which is moored at the foot of Valentine street and about twenty feet from the shore. With-out halting they ran up this approach, turned when they got on the barge, and, still going at a gallop, dragged the heavy wagon over piles of rope and between cap-stans and other obstructions for the full length of the barge to the apron at the north end. Then they turned suddenly and ran to the shore, where they turned north barge to the shore, but they scrambled up again, and, dragging the wagon over three or four similar ropes, ran to the south apron of the Huse & Loomis barge. They atwas too high from the ground at that point and they stumbled. Before they could regain their feet some teamsters on the Huse & Loomis boat caught them. They were unhitched and taken on the barge, where a number of horses are quartered. Meantime several persons had gathered about Unruhe. He was unconscious, with blood streaming from an ugly gash on the left side of his head. He was taken in an ambulance to the City Hospital, where a fracture, extending several inches above his left ser, was found. Unruhe lives at No. left ear, was found. ZINC AND LEAD ORE.

Increased Sales Last Week and Higher Price for Zinc. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Joplin, Mo., July 15 .- The zinc ore output last week was nearly double that of Fourth of July week, and was several carloads larger than the sales, which aggregated 4,104 tons. The increase was caused by the restarting of a number of milis, which had been idle from one to five weeks, occasioned by the advance of $1$ to $2$ a ton for the ore. It is reported that many more milis will be restarted this week and further increase the output beyond the demand.

The Della S, zinc ore at Webb City was reported by the owners sold at $2$ a ton, but the purchasing agent does not confirm the claim. Chitwood ore, on the property of the United Zinc Company's land in Joplin, sold above $27 a ton, on an assay basis, the ore assaying over $2$ per cent zinc. The basis was $25 for $60$ per cent, with a raise of $1$ for each 1 per cent increase. Lead ore was $2.50 a ton lower, selling all week at $42.50.

The sales were 150 tons of zinc and fifty tons of lead more than the preceding week, and the value was $3,600 larger. Compared with the corresponding week of last year, last week's sales were $21 tons of zinc ore and twenty-nine tons of lead ore less. Zinc ore then sold at $44.50 and lead ore at $55 at ton, and the value of that week was $8,375 more than last week.

Following are the sales from tracts of land owned or controlled by the companies and individuals named for the week ending July 14, 1900: been idle from one to five weeks, occasioned
